ECO TA Cadre

What is the TA Cadre?

The ECO Center hosts a new learning community to support Technical Assistance (TA) providers in developing their expertise in the area of early childhood outcomes measurement. The goal is to develop a cadre of TA providers who can provide training and TA to state and local administrators, teachers, providers, and families on issues and challenges related to developing and implementing an outcomes measurement system. The Cadre is for TA providers at the national, state and local levels and addresses all methods of child and family outcomes measurement.

Community members:

- Participate in peer-to-peer support in the area of training and TA on outcomes measurement
- Provide input to ECO about the issues and challenges related to training and TA on outcomes measurement
- Receive ECO TA support to increase their expertise related to training and TA on outcomes measurement

How often does the TA Cadre meet?

The group was formed in January 2009 and decided to meet at least quarterly via conference call and/or web meetings. So far, the group has met twice to discuss TA resources and strategies related to ensuring the quality of outcome data. We are planning to create a web space for members to share ideas and resources online.
